During the training, you will hear compelling stories from experts and survivors about the commercial sexual exploitation of children. You will also: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Learn what commercial sexual exploitation of children is and what circumstances make children vulnerable.</li> <li>• Learn about the root causes of commercial sexual exploitation directly from survivors.</li> <li>• Understand how preventing child sexual abuse reduces the risk for children being commercially sexually exploited.</li> <li>• Hear about actions adults can take to prevent commercial sexual exploitation of children.</li> </ul>
Wednesday, March 13th            Nova Southeastern University,            4850 Millenia Blvd, Orlando,            32839, Rm 122            Orange County 9:30 – 11:30 Ann Pimentel-Kerr            The Children's Advocacy Center            Specialist	Resilience "The child may not remember, but the body remembers." RESILIENCE is a one-hour documentary that delves into the science of Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and the birth of a new movement to treat and prevent Toxic Stress. Now understood to be one of the leading causes of every- thing from heart disease and cancer to substance abuse and depression, extremely stressful experiences in childhood can alter brain development and have lifelong effects on health and behavior. However, as experts and practitioners profiled in RESILIENCE are proving, what's predictable is preventable. These physicians, educators, social workers and communities are daring to talk about the effects of divorce, abuse and neglect. And they're using cutting edge science to help the next generation break the cycles of adversity and disease. Participants will participate in viewing the documentary followed by discussion points about Adverse Childhood Experiences and Trauma Informed Care.

And how do you educate teens whose childhood experiences have left them with a brain and body ill-suited to learn? In search of clear and honest answers, Paper Tigers hinges on a remarkable collaboration between subject and filmmaker. Armed with their own cameras and their own voices, the teens of Paper Tigers offer raw but valuable insight into the hearts and minds of teens pushing back against the specter of a hard childhood. Against the harsh reality of truancy, poor grades, emotional pain, and physical violence, answers begin to emerge. The answers do not come easily. Nor can one simply deduce a one-size-fits-all solution to a trauma-informed education. But there is no denying something both subtle and

Tuesday, June 11th Nova Southeastern University, 4850 Millenia Blvd, Orlando, 32839, Rm 121 Orange County Ann Pimentel-Kerr The Children's Advocacy Center Specialist	Like Any Other Kid Screening &amp; Discussion Like Any Other Kid provides a rare glimpse into the inner-workings of one of the most promising developments in juvenile justice reform: the use of non-punitive, therapeutic programs to change behavior and help youth re-enter their communities. Following the intimate relationships between incarcerated youth and staff in three unique facilities across the country over the course of three years, the film shows how these programs work. Based on the Missouri approach, where love and structure, instead of punishment, are used, these programs guide and teach youth how to take responsibility for themselves. Through scenes of conflict, vulnerability, reflection, commitment, and joy, the youth transform before our eyes. Like Any Other Kid shows us the great potential of these youth if we let them be just that: like any other kid.
